

allegheny
children's initiative
Hope starts here

Education & Dialogue subcommittee

February 2023

Monthly Learning
Topic

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

The History of Black History Month

It's February, so many teachers and schools are taking time to celebrate Black History Month. According to Stanford historian Michael Hines, there are still misunderstandings and misconceptions about the past, present, and future of the celebration. In this installment of Tiny Lectures, Hines talks about the beginnings and evolution of Black History Month. Michael Hines is an assistant professor at the Stanford Graduate School of Education. He teaches courses on the history of education, and specifically the history of African American education, in the United States.

<https://blackhistorymonth.gov/>

Attached is a link to resources provided by the Library of Congress, National Archives and Records Administration, National Endowment for the Humanities, National Gallery of Art, National Park Service, Smithsonian Institution and United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. This website is a tribute to “the generations of African Americans who struggled with adversity to achieve full citizenship in American society.”

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Equity is Imperative

AlleghenyChildrens.org    