

HOLIDAY CELEBRATIONS

Across cultures there are many celebrations that find their home in the wintertime. While most of us may be familiar with several holidays, we may not know what is being celebrated or why. We encourage you to engage in the following videos to learn more about a few of the major holidays that are celebrated during this time, and to engage with your community about what the holiday season looks like for their families. You may be surprised to hear unique traditions from everyone's various cultures!
