INDIGENOUS PEOPLES MONTH

November is Indigenous Peoples month, or as it is often referred to, Native American and Alaskan Native Heritage month. This month, and every month, is a time to acknowledge and celebrate the traditions, stories, and culture of Indigenous people. Along with this, it is a time to reflect and challenge the misrepresentation of natives throughout American history.

Indigenous In Plain Sight | Gregg Deal | TEDxBoulder

Indigenous In Plain Sight is a TedTalk given by Gregg Deal, a member of the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe. He is also a provocative contemporary artist-activist who illustrates narrowly viewed stereotypes and the appropriation of Indigenous people. This TedTalk shares not only his paintings, murals, and performance art, but also describes his life story and culture as an indigenous person.

ThanksTaking or ThanksGiving?

In this episode of the All My Relations podcast, Paula Peters and Linda Coombs of the Wompanoag Tribe tell the real story of Thanksgiving through an Indigenous perspective. Paula and Linda discuss the historical fallacy of the holiday and how to give thanks in a positive way.
